Questions you could be asked by the regulator, insurers and clients

- How do you demonstrate your directors, management and supervisions commitment to health and safety?
- What do you do to ensure appropriate director level review of health and safety?
- What have you done to ensure your organisation, at all levels including directors management and supervision, receives competent health and safety advice?
- How are you ensuring all staff – including the directors management and supervision– are sufficiently trained and competent in their health and safety responsibilities?
- How confident are you that your workforce, particularly safety representatives, are consulted properly on health and safety matters, and that their concerns are reaching the appropriate level including, as necessary, the board?
- What systems are in place to ensure your organisation’s risks are assessed, and that sensible control measures are established and maintained?
- How well do you know what is happening on the ground, and what audits or assessments are undertaken to inform you about what your organisation and contractors actually do?
- What information does the board receive regularly about health and safety – e.g. performance data and reports on injuries and work-related ill health?
- What targets have you set to improve health and safety and do you benchmark your performance against others in your sector or beyond?
- Where changes in working arrangements have significant implications for health and safety, how are these brought to the attention of directors and senior management?
